

News, Views and Reviews from Marcia & Ted

Read All About It!

The Beach Volleyball Girls' Exhibition Foursome has morphed into a Girls' Basketball Team!

Beth & Jeff produced yet another wonderful granddaughter: January 24th marked the arrival of Natalie Elizabeth Sekera!

Ted's childhood friend Jane Grannis and long-time beau, Terry Wetmore, got hitched on 1.1.11

Intro

Splash

We flew down to Key West on December 28th in time for Marcia's birthday on the 31st. Well, on the 29th she was checked into the Lower Keys Medical Center for acute diverticulitis; flew back to Chicago on the 13th. Checked out surgeons and on February 17th Marcia had a closed resection on February 17th. She didn't get out of the hospital until March 14th after her original and three follow-up surgeries. And back in the 16th because her closure wound was infected. Guess we'll do the birthday thing later in 2011!

Main – 3 columns

Jan Well, we got down to Key West December 28 where our fabulous neighbors, Phil & Je, had opened up our house for us. Marcia went into the	Medical Center the next day; we flew back to Lake Forest at mid-month.	February and spent most of the next 3½ weeks in Northwestern Memorial due to complications. We never did get back to KW but our friends Judy & Frank and Jan & Paul went as originally scheduled.
Feb-Mar	Kind of a blur. Marcia had her diverticulitis surgery mid-

	Nov
	Dec
Apr
May
Jun
Jul
We headed up to Canada to open the camp for and await the arrival of Beth, Jeff and the little girls.
Aug
Marcia's co-lister on our house called to ask if we were interested in renting our new (to us) house to the Bear's new punter, Adam Podlesh. Oh well, anything for the team.
Sep
As many of you know, our home has been for sale since last year. Well, in September we accepted an offer and got started with our moving plans. Oops, not so fast. The buyer was unable to secure financing and so we were back to step one. Whimper.
Oct	